

The Anatomy

In the Anatomy of the Guided Discovery Style, the role of the teacher is to make all subject matter decisions, including the target concept to be discovered and the sequential design of the questions for the learner. The role of the learner is to discover the answers. This implies that the learner makes decisions about segments of the subject matter within the topic selected by the teacher.

Pre-Impact..... (Teacher)
(planning)

Impact..... (Teacher/Learner)
(implementation)

Post Impact..... (Teacher/Learner)
(feedback & assessment)